Product description

The M Performance gearshift lever knob with Alcantara gaiter is a real eye-catcher in the cockpit. The innovative and unmistakable design is combined with materials from motorsports: open-pore carbon fibre with Alcantara. In combination with a silver-grey cross-stitch seam in the Alcantara gaiter, the gearshift lever knob offers a completely new, unmistakable dimension in terms of its look and feel.

Sales features / benefits

- Ergonomic design for a direct switching feeling with brand new material mix.
- High-tech material you can feel: This completely new technology offers direct contact with the high-tech material of carbon fibre. The carbon fibre is sealed with a special filler and then finished with silk matt protective paint. The structure of the carbon fibre remains open and tangible, creating a fascinating feel.
- Better feel and grip: Alcantara offers a consistently pleasant touch under all temperature conditions.
- The sporty and sophisticated design, with its silver-grey cross-stitch seam and open-pored carbon, perfectly matches the M Performance look.
- The M Performance lettering in the shift pattern gives the gearshift lever knob an original appearance.
- Simple installation: The gearshift lever knob can be installed by the dealer in just 5 minutes.

Competition comparison

BMW is the only manufacturer currently to offer a gearshift lever knob in open-pored carbon. The high-quality material mix with Alcantara is also unique to date.

Cross-selling

The product is ideal for cross-selling with the following products:

- M Performance Alcantara steering wheel and carbon finisher
- M Performance handbrake lever with gaiter
- M Performance carbon / Alcantara interior strips

These products are also finished in the high-quality material mix of Alcantara and open-pored carbon and therefore complement each other perfectly.
